

National Chung Cheng University
Department of Computer Science and Information Engineering
Ph.D. Freshman Scholarship Guidelines

Passed in the Feb. 21, 2013 Department Affairs Meeting

Article 1 To encourage outstanding students to join the Ph.D. program of the Department of Computer Science and Information Engineering (hereinafter referred to as the Department), National Chung Cheng University, Taiwan, this set of guidelines for "Ph.D. Freshman Scholarship" in the Department of Computer Science and Information Engineering, National Chung Cheng University" (hereinafter referred to as the Guidelines) was created.

Article 2 The candidates for this scholarship are the full-time first year student (hereinafter referred to as the freshmen) of the Ph.D. program.

Article 3 This scholarship has two categories:

First Type: The freshmen are graduates from Master program of this department: the total amount of scholarship is NT$ 300K, which will be equally shared by the freshmen who were admitted based on the entrance exam and the freshmen who were directly admitted from the Master program. However, there is an upper bound on the amount that each student is awarded and it is NT$100K.

Second Type: The freshman is a foreign student from outside Taiwan. When there is more than one candidate, the candidate selection will be based on merit. The monthly scholarship will be NT$11K, and the maximum length of scholarship provision will be one year.

The above scholarships will not be given to the same student more than once. The student being awarded this scholarship shall have registered for that academic year. The amount awarded will be based on the budget allocated to the department each year.

Article 4 Application Procedures: To apply for this scholarship, the applicant shall fill the scholarship application form, provide related documents and proofs, and submit the application to the department office within the time announced each year.

Article 5 Issuing scholarships: On passing the review by this department's Graduate Affairs Committee, the applications shall be submitted to the Department Affairs Meeting for the final approval. The scholarships shall be issued according to the related rules in the next year following that of admission. The maximum amount of scholarship awarded to a single student will be NT$11K.

Article 6 Sources of funding:

The graduate student scholarship provided to the department by the university in the year after that of the student's admission.

Article 7 According to the guidelines, if the students being awarded scholarship have the following issues, then their eligibility for the scholarships will be revoked: applied for admission reservation after being admitted, did not complete registration, applied for leave before being admitted.

Article 8 After passing the review by the Department Affairs Meeting, this guidelines can be implemented, and any amendments thereto.

Ph.D. Freshman Scholarship Application Form
Department of Computer Science and Information Engineering
National Chung Cheng University, Taiwan.

Date of Application: _____

Type of Application	<input type="checkbox"/> First type: graduates from the Master program of CCU, CSIE <input type="checkbox"/> Second type: foreign student
Student ID		Name
Address
Signatures	Applicant: (Signature)
	Advisor: (Signature)
Review results	<input type="checkbox"/> Scholarship granted, amount: NT$ _____ . <input type="checkbox"/> Scholarship NOT granted

Office:

Department Head:

Department Stamp:

Note: When the application is approved, this form will be considered as an affidavit between the applicant and the Department. Applicants shall be required to comply with the set of guidelines for Ph.D. Freshman Scholarship of the Department of Computer Science and Information Engineering, National Chung Cheng University, Taiwan. After admission into the program, the applicant shall not apply for suspension or withdrawal from the program within first two years of the program.